Course Description:

The purpose of this course is to teach you basic human anatomy. Human anatomy is the study of the structure and function of the human body and the relationship between its parts.

This course teaches students to easily remember the names, pronunciations and locations of all the principal parts of every major body system, including associated anatomical terms and locations. By understanding the names and functions of the body and its parts, you will gain a tremendous advantage when attending further educational trainings; such as CNA classes, Medical Coding classes, CPR, etc. because you will have a basis of understanding of the terms being used, why certain techniques are used, and the reason for .

The material is presented in a practical and comprehensive manner that focuses on the need-to-know facts that must be understood in order to pursue any healthcare career or related education in the field of science.
